“ There was a strength about my Mother I always admired and tried to immlate. She gave her children love, intelligence, a strong sense of family, a fabulous work ethic...but always her unconditional love and support. She kept us close and united, we will continue that. She showed us great courage in the face of difficulty and fought long and hard against her disease and died with great dignitiy and acceptance when it was tme to surrender. I love you Mommie, I miss you. You and Wanda take good care of each other!
