“ I was so sorry to see that Linda passed away. She was such a sweet lady and had a great sense of humor. I met her many years ago when I worked in a neurosurgeons office. When Linda came in, I immediately noticed on her patient information sheet that she listed her occupation as "a stripper". While I said nothing about her job description, she told me she noticed the puzzled expression on my face! We both had a big laugh as she explained that she worked at Lithoplates!! I have fond memories of the many chats we had in the office and although we lost touch, I never forgot Linda. My sincere condolences to all the family at this very difficult time.

“ I don't have one specific story to tell. There's too many to pick from. Mama was not just Mama, she was my travel buddy on all those trips to Biloxi, Tunica, Atlantic City, the Bahamas. She was always willing to pitch in and help with Ava if we needed her to, and oh my, her cooking and all the food she sent home with me. It's gonna be hard, but I'll find a way to check in with her every morning and every evening on my way to and from work. She always rode with me and I know she's riding with me still.

“ Linda always sent me cat-head biscuits, or cake, or a pie, or whatever else she'd cooked. She'd even make me my own banana pudding ever so often. And she'd always call and tell me when she dropped them off with Terri Lilly. She'd say, "make sure Terri Lilly gives it to you and don't let her eat it all." She could cook, and she could always make me laugh. She was a good mother-in-law and I'll miss her. Happy Trails, Linder.

“ Momma was coming over to Teri's house to get her "hair do" before her 80th birthday and Little Miss Ava welcomed her with thousand of little bubbles. Big Momma was a little surprised at first but soon shared one of those ear to ear smiles!.....This is the part where I cried for a little while.....and some more.....She told me 2 weeks later you know I still have bubbles in my car. :-) I'm gonna Miss you Big Momma Louskie, our morning talks every day, watching the Food Network, getting recipes and cooking tips, solving the worlds crisis, talking about our families, friends, and kids. I know we didn't have the prefect family growing up but it seemed we made the best of it. I hope your proud of the man I've become. Be looking for me Momma for I will see you soon!

“ I will always remember Linda for all the energy she had . playing bingo , traveling, going to shows and she knew where the best restaurants were . She took me under her wing when I moved there from Ct. and met her at the VFW bingo . She knew her way around the whole state and showed me how to get to most places. Never will I forget her cakes , they were the best cakes ever and she would share at bingo many times. when ever I called she was cooking for the kids . She will truly be missed.
