

Lowell G Hart

January 21, 1947 - February 8, 2013

Caring husband, father and friend, Lowell G. Hart died at his home in Gerber, CA. just before 10:00 p.m. Friday, February 8, 2013 after eight months of treatment for cancer.

Before his illness, Lowell was always on his way somewhere with something to do. He was an active member of the Redding Area Volkswagen Association and the Yolla Bolly Frontiersmen Black Powder Club. For a time, Lowell had his pilot's license for small, twin-engine airplanes and he enjoyed building scale-model airplanes and ships. He was also a fan of classical music and anything related to planes, trains, boats, automobiles, television and Star Trek. Following four years of active duty in the United States Navy, Lowell served 16 years in the Navy Reserves. He also worked for more than 30 years as a Licensed Vocational Nurse in Shasta and Tehama Counties.

Lowell was born January 21, 1947 in Redding, CA to the late Lorin Hart and Dorothy Sunsted.

Lowell was quiet, kind, generous and honest. He never judged or criticized anyone for his or her faults, mistakes or vices. He simply lived his own life the way he saw fit. Lowell will be sorely missed by all who knew and loved him.

He is survived by his loving wife, Lovetta; his daughter, Laura; his brother,

Lorin and sister Dale; his stepfather, William; his stepchildren, Joe, Caryl, and Leonard; his grandchildren, Joseph and Micayla and six step-grandchildren.

A public memorial service will be held for Lowell in the multipurpose room of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints-Antelope Ward in Red Bluff, CA where he was a longtime member on Thursday, February 21, 2013 at 1:00 p.m.

His ashes will be placed at Redding Memorial Park in a private family ceremony.

May he forever rest in blessed peace.
