

Nkenge Thompson

February 24, 1972 - July 16, 2024

Nkenge K. Thompson has gone home to her Lord. Her earthly life began when she was born in New Brunswick, New Jersey on February 24, 1972. Her eternal life began after she died in Charlotte, NC on July 16, 2024. The promise of resurrection awaits her.

Nkenge, also known as "Kenji", was the eldest child and only daughter of Myrna Thompson and Oliver C. Thompson. Oliver passed from this life on April 8, 2011.

Nkenge attended private and public schools in New Jersey and Georgia. Her elementary education was in Camden, New Jersey at Christway Christian Academy followed by middle school at King's Christian School.

The family moved to Georgia when Kenji was 13. She graduated from high school in Augusta, Georgia where she attended The Academy of Richmond County. She finished with honors and received scholarship funds to attend The University of Georgia in Athens, Georgia. After two years, she transferred to Augusta College where she received a degree in Studio Art.

She then attended SCAD (Savannah College of Art and Design) where she majored in Video and Film. She received excellent grades while showing an interest in art, jewelry making, painting, pottery, and fashion. She was cited for her particular skills in making documentaries and crafting commercials.

Kenji is survived by her mother, 3 younger brothers, two sisters-in-law, two nieces, and six nephews. Her extended family is very large and includes numerous cousins, The Thompsons of New Jersey, The Drews of New York, and The Williams of New Jersey.

And this is the testimony: that God has given us eternal life, and this life is in His son. He who has the Son has life; he who does not have the Son of God (JESUS) does not have life.

I John 5:11-12

Though the Christian has no immunity from death and no claim to perpetual life on this planet, death is to him/her a friend rather than a foe, the beginning rather than the end, another step on the pathway to heaven rather than a leap into a dark unknown.
